

SYLLABUSPSYC 3730*Social Psychology*Section 02

Fall 2019

In-Person, 4 Credits

Instructor: David Salisbury Brown Mitchell, Ph.D.Office: Melson Hall, Room 118 (first floor)Class Meetings: Tuesdays and Thursdays 2:00 pm-3:40 pmLocation: Nursing Building Room 115COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course will allow us to consider the depth and breadth of the discipline of social psychology. The primary aims are to consider how the context within which we live affects our mental processes and behaviors. These matters particularly concern the people who we are around and to whom we are exposed. We will engage in critical thought, discussion, and other activities about the ways in which various studies, topics, and theories from social psychology relate to our own lives and to the world within which we live today.

TEXT and MATERIALS

- Required Text: Baumeister, R.F. & Bushman, B.J. (2011). Social psychology and human nature. Wadsworth, Cengage Learning. The text will be referred to as "BB (2011)" throughout the rest of the syllabus.

COMMUNICATIONS

- Individual communications: If you need to reach me with a question or concern (e.g., about course content, assignments, and similar matters), please email me using the CourseDen email center. I will typically respond to emails within 24-48 hours. However, if you have not received a reply within that time frame, feel free to send a follow-up email. If I need to communicate with you individually, I will generally use the CourseDen email center to do so.
 - Urgent correspondence: For communications about being late to or missing class due to family emergencies, transportation troubles, etc., please put the word "Urgent" in the subject heading when you email me.
 - Missing class meetings and assignments: If you end up having a reasonable excuse for not attending class or missing an assignment such as a family emergency, medical or psychiatric emergency, travel emergency, etc., please let me know as soon as you can by sending an email. The absence may be excused or missed work may be given extra time if documentation (e.g., a picture of a doctor's note, a scanned copy of an invoice for car repairs, etc.) can be provided. In the case of sensitive emergencies (e.g., a medical procedure or visit, etc.) that you do not want to disclose the nature of, you can blot out or cover the part of the documentation that states the nature of the problem. I ask for documentation to determine the date and duration of the emergency/problem and to verify its occurrence. It is not to embarrass or make anyone feel uncomfortable.

Mass/whole class communications: If multiple students have similar questions about something or if there is something that I want to convey to everyone at once, I may get in touch with all of you at once through one of several ways: a) an email sent through the CourseDen email system, b) an announcement posted on our course home page, or c) an announcement posted at the beginning of our lecture slides. Please be sure to check these sources regularly for new information.

OFFICE HOURS

To schedule an appointment for either face-to-face (i.e., in Melson Hall Room 118 or in some other predetermined location) or online (i.e., over the phone or through the CourseDen chat tool), email me using the CourseDen email system at least 24 hours in advance of when you would like to meet.

If you speak to me in-person at any point (i.e., during office hours, before or after class, etc.) about a question, concern, or other issue that requires further action on my part, I strongly suggest that you email me afterwards if I need to follow-up on something for you. This is to serve as a reminder for me as well as to be a record that we spoke.

ASSIGNMENTS

Course Assessment/Assignments: The following assessments and assignments for our course are listed along with the amount of weight that they carry (i.e., the percentage/amount of points that they are worth) as well as information about how to complete them. Unless otherwise stated, all assignments are due on CourseDen by 11:59pm on their due date listed in the Proposed Course Calendar below. Also, late assignments will be accepted, but will lose 10 points per day past the due date.

- Attendance (10% of grade: 30 days of attendance; 100 points total (26 days at 2 points each; 4 days at 12 points each): 30 days that we meet in class we will take attendance during class. Which days are worth 2 and which days are worth 12 points will be chosen randomly at the end of the semester. Again, if you have an emergency and are unable to attend a given class for some reason, email me at your earliest convenience.
- Reflections (50% of grade: 15 of these at 30 points each; 450 points total): These assignments will give you a chance to put your thoughts, queries, and perceptions of our course material into writing. At least 250 words in length, these Reflections are to each focus on at least one of the following: a) either a “GREEN BOX” topic or b) another topic/theory of your choosing that was covered in the text (see below).
 - 1) “GREEN BOX” topics: The “GREEN BOX” responses are your educated replies to chapter sections throughout the book which are labeled “Food for Thought”, “Money Matters”, “The Social Side of Sex”, “Tradeoffs”, or “What Makes Us Human?”, and which are listed in the Table of Contents. The “GREEN BOXES” are found in each chapter of the BB (2011) text and your replies will relate to at least one of the following: a) an interest or event from your own personal, familial/relational, academic, or professional (i.e., career or job-related) life; or b) an interest or event from the larger community or societal context within which you live. Be sure to include the word count at the top of the page with your name, the date, and the course number.

- o 2) Another topic/theory: If you choose to write about another topic/theory that was covered in the text aside from the “GREEN BOX” responses, then make sure that you state clearly what the topic/theory is and how it relates to at least one of the following: a) an interest or event from your own personal, familial/relational, academic, or professional (i.e., career or job-related) life; or b) an interest or event from the larger community or societal context within which you live. Be sure to include the word count at the top of the page with your name, the date, and the course number.
- o Note: You are to complete a Reflection for the chapter that we discuss each week. However, there are 15 Reflections and just 14 chapters, so if you choose to write about GREEN BOX topics for the entire semester, then you will end up doing two Reflections from one of the chapters (e.g., Chapter 2) that contains more than one GREEN BOX prompt. In other words, for Reflection #15, you would just pick another GREEN BOX topic from one of the chapters with multiple GREEN BOX prompts and write about that.
- Module Presentations (30% of grade: 6 of these at 50 points each; 300 points total): We are all a part of this class community. Since you are all students in this class and are members of the University of West Georgia community, you have a common identity. I ask that you do your best to work together, share together, and help each other to engage with the material in ways that are for your collective benefit. In order to aid that process, you will each be placed in a communal learning group (CLG) of no more than five people. Every student will each individually create and share six brief presentations within your CLG over the course of the semester. Presentations can be about any topic and/or theory that we have covered during the course and must include the following: a) the name and description of the topic and/or theory, b) how you think knowledge/understanding of it could be helpful and/or harmful to society in general, and c) how you can potentially use knowledge/understanding of it to aid you in your personal and/or career life.
 - o Presentations can be made using any format or visual media of your choosing (e.g., YouTube video presentation, poster board, Prezi, powerpoint, PowToon, etc.). Presentations are to include a one-paragraph summary of the presentation to accompany the piece.
 - o You will each have 5 minutes for your individual presentation and at least 5 minutes for questions and answers after all in your group have presented. Other students in your group will provide me with quantitative (i.e., numeric) and qualitative (i.e., written wording) feedback on the content (i.e., did it cover the 3 points above), clarity (i.e., did it flow well and was it intelligible), and overall presentation style (i.e., any images used, the tone of the presentation/presenter, etc.) via a rubric. I will average the scores that your classmates in your group give you to generate a total presentation score for each presentation. Presentations will take place informally in class during weeks 3, 5, 7, 9, 11, and 13 (see course schedule).
 - o Lastly, a 50 word (minimum) long summary/outline of each presentation is to be uploaded to CourseDen. If you would like, you can upload your script (i.e., what you are going to say or have recorded for your presentation). The main point is to have something “tangible” to turn in to demonstrate what you are presenting. If the presentation itself is in an uploadable file format or has a persistent shareable link, you can upload that as well if you would like.

- If you happen to miss a presentation day, you will have to do one of two things in order to receive credit: a) send your presentation to your classmates who will then have to view it and provide me with feedback on their own, or b) arrange a time to meet with them outside of class to present it to them so that they can provide me with feedback. If some classmates prefer to meet with you outside of class but others cannot, you can share your presentation virtually with those who cannot attend in-person.
- Impact Manuscript (150 Points Total; 15% of grade): This assignment is your final and is an in-depth analysis of how at least 3 of your Reflection and/or Presentation topics relate to one another and what they might mean for you and society as a whole. This paper is therefore very much tied to your Reflections and Presentations, but should not simply be restating what you already said. Instead, it should synthesize what you talked about previously and provide the reader (well, me) with an understanding of how you think the topics/theories can potentially benefit you, your family/community, and/or society at large.
 - This manuscript should therefore contain the following: 1) a detailed description of the Presentation and/or Reflection topics/theories; 2) how you think these topics may converge/correlate with one another and/or how previous writings/research say that they overlap, 3) how you think the topics/theories could help you and/or those around you better understand yourselves and/or relate to one another, and lastly, 4) at least five in-text citations that are also contained in an APA-formatted references list. The paper must be in APA (6th edition) format with a title page, references page, and contain at least 1,750 words. Be sure to include the word count at the bottom of the References page.
 - Below are some resources to remind you how to create an APA format paper as well as other resources related to finding and creating citations.

ACADEMIC WRITING and CITATION TOOLS

- University Writing Center (HYPERLINK: <https://www.westga.edu/writing>): You can make an appointment by: 1) stopping by their office at TLC 1201, 2) calling their office at 678-839-6513, or 3) emailing their office at writing@westga.edu. If you want writing support for your Case Study or anything else, make an appointment soon as spaces will fill up quickly. Also, please note that the center closes for summer 2017 on Thursday, July 13th.
- APA Format (HYPERLINK <http://www.apastyle.org/learn/tutorials/basics-tutorial.aspx>): Visit the APA website for a free tutorial and other resources about the basics of writing a paper in APA format/style.
- Purdue OWL (HYPERLINK: <https://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/section/2/10/>): Visit this easy-to-use website for the basics in APA format/style and to create APA-formatted citations.
- Son of Citation Machine (HYPERLINK: <http://www.citationmachine.net/>): This is a free citation and reference builder for APA, MLA, Turabian, and Chicago writing and publishing styles.
- Zotero [zoh-TAIR-oh] (HYPERLINK: <https://www.zotero.org/>): This is a (mostly) free tool to help you collect, organize, cite, and share your research sources. You can integrate it into your web browser and word processor as well as it download it to your desktop. You can pay for more storage space to build your database, but should not need to do so without a relatively large amount of citations that you need to save.

- BibMe (HYPERLINK: <http://www.bibme.org/>): This is a free, fully-automatic bibliography maker that auto-fills. It is easy to use to build a works cited page.

HOUSEKEEPING

Assignments will be accepted late up to a point. Without a valid excuse for late work, presentations lose 1 point per day late, and papers lose 10 points per day late.

Unless otherwise noted in the syllabus (as in any collaborative group that we will do), you are each to submit assignments and exam responses that are from your own reflection and opinion on the material. If you make reference to someone else's work in an assignment or exam response, be sure to give proper credit by including the person's full name and the source (e.g., a website, textbook page, etc.) from which it came. Academic dishonesty (e.g., plagiarism) is a serious offense and is punishable in a variety of ways, from not receiving credit on that assignment to being expelled from the university. Take note that if someone else is involved (e.g., another student) who is tied to the university, that that person can receive disciplinary action as well which may be harsher. Expect that at the least, no credit will be given for that assignment.

Due to the intended communal nature of this course, I ask that each and every one of us hold ourselves to high standards and integrity in our actions.

Common Language for Course Syllabi

Additionally, please review the following Common Language for Course Syllabi at the following link: <https://www.westga.edu/administration/vpaa/common-language-course-syllabi.php>. It contains important material pertaining to your rights and responsibilities in this class. Because these statements are updated as federal, state, and accreditation standards change, you should review the information each semester. There are more resources regarding academic resources in the following link: http://www.westga.edu/assetsSA/counseling/Academic_Support_Services.pdf

Note: I reserve the right to make changes to this syllabus -- particularly as it concerns the course schedule. If I do so, I will notify you of these changes.
